

Design for Livin'

MORTON HULL, Rotarian

President, Henry G. Sears & Co.

Holyoke, Massachusetts

Here's a bit of philosophy I wrote and try to practice. I find in so doing that my path is directed by Rotary signs all along the way:

Me—worry? No, sirree!

For I'm the guy I live with, see!

Clutter up my dome with woes?

What's the good? Taint sense! I knows!

Each conscios day I just adore,

Plus mem'ries of the day before.

Tomorrow's sure to come in stride,

Without my bein' notified.

I keep happy at my chore,

And this or that, and a heap lot more;

Simply 'cause I've got no room

To nurse that loafer, Old Man Gloom.

Listen! You! Who fret and stew—

Just live today and love it, too.

Every day's that way with me!

Me—worry? No, sirree!
